Joanna Macy Center at Naropa

These are challenging times. Especially if you live or have lived downwind from Rocky Flats. Or worked at the plant. How do you deal with the stress, fear, overwhelm or loneliness?

In this workshop, you will experience a safe space to share your stories, build community, find inspiration and support, and share ideas for moving forward with your personal healing and with healing for the community.

This engaging experience gives you tools for dealing with the challenges that Rocky Flats has brought into your life and into the lives of loved ones.

This workshop is based on the work of anti-nuclear activist and eco-philosopher Joanna Macy.

SPACE LIMITED! Registration Required.
